The Nordahi staff proudly presents . . .

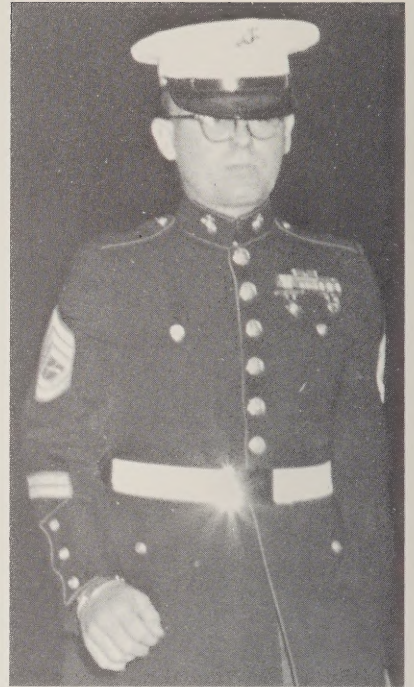

A dramatic photograph of a palm tree silhouette against a sunset sky. The palm fronds are dark and detailed, with the warm orange and red light of the setting sun filtering through them. The sky transitions from a deep orange near the horizon to a darker, purplish-red at the top. The overall mood is serene and evocative.

A spirit of democracy was Under the guidance of President Johnny Everhart, the Student Council of North Davidson adopted a point system to go into effect during the school year 1970-71. Striving to create and maintain high academic standards, to promote a spirit of democracy, and to provide a closer relationship between faculty and students, the North Davidson Senior High Student Council achieved an outstanding record this year.

The Nordahi Staff

The Nordahi staff attempted to bring new and original ideas to the 1970 edition. Sherry Mendenhall, Feature Editor, Joe Hinkle, Photographer, and Donna Zimmerman, Co-Editor attended a summer workshop and returned to share the benefits with the entire staff. At times, meeting deadlines, taking pictures, and writing copy seemed an impossible task, yet each member contributed his own time and efforts to complete the '70 edition. The staff members appreciated the help of the co-editors, Steve Gibson and Donna Zimmerman, the wise counseling of sponsors Mrs. Wright and Mr. Sink and the understanding of the faculty and administration when it was necessary that work be done during class time.

Publishing a newspaper twice monthly is a challenging endeavor. This year the staff of "Knight News" made many advancements toward a better newspaper. Thanks to the money from advertisements, the students no longer receive a mimeographed paper but rather a printed edition from the newspaper printing machines in Lexington. Most of the credit for this new development should go to the fine sponsor of the Knight News, Mrs. Smith. A new look for our newspaper opened the way for a new decade of expression at North Davidson Senior High.

National Honor Society exemplified

In the structure of club organizations at North Davidson the National Honor Society is the most selective in membership. The purpose of this "group of individuals" is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in students at North. The highlights of the N.H.S. was the "tapping" of new members in November and again in the spring.

Future Homemakers of America worked

The Future Homemakers of America strive to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living, now and in the future. To obtain this goal several changes were made this year including a revision of the constitution and an election of a chaplain to take care of devotions. Highlights of the year involved the District Rally in Greensboro and the State Convention in Raleigh. The girls also enjoyed the Mother-Daughter Banquet and National F.H.A. week. Dramatic class gave many performances through the year.

A new organization was established this year at North to institute a background and understanding of dramatic presentation. Constant drills, practices, and line memorizations resulted in fine dramatic performances throughout the year. Some performances included DARK OF THE MOON, a two-act play given in November and REST ASSURED, presented in March. Numerous club projects helped each member learn a meaningful art that will always remain with him.

The outstanding work of the Library Club was recognized this year not only by students at North but also by the North Carolina High School Library Association. The District meeting was held in November with our chapter acting as host. This was a great success as were the other activities of the club – the faculty tea, the sale of paperback books, and the Christmas Party. All activities worked toward the achievement of one goal – creating an interest in the library, the enjoyment and the use of it.

The endeavors of a few

There are several groups of people at North whose service to the school often goes unnoticed. Yet, day by day they steadily do their jobs in order that students can always eat their luncheon meal, see the United States flag flown, use clean facilities, and get drinks at break. Sincere appreciation goes to the lunchroom staff, the custodians, the flag raisers, and the "pour boys".

UNDERCLASSMEN

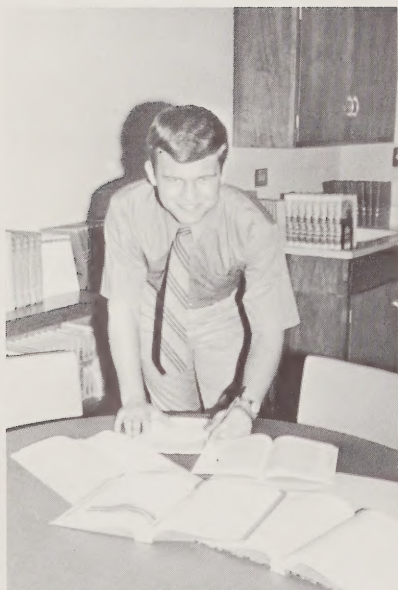

The Junior year seemed to be the most enjoyable and most relaxed. Classes were harder than ever before, yet Juniors had a new sense of security. The newness of being Sophomores had been lost; the responsibilities of Seniors were yet to come. And so as Juniors, we lived life to the fullest.

STUDENT LIFE

What is "Student Life?"

At North Davidson it is a feeling of co-operation. Various activities can be classified as parts of student life, but in reality it is the students and their feelings for each other that make a year successful. If students are willing to be a part of North Davidson's student life, there is always a place for them to use their time and energy.

Progressed As Never Before.

Was our year successful?

As in any school, dissension was present throughout the year. However, North Davidson emerged from the year with an over-all feeling of closeness that had never been experienced before. School spirit reached the highest point in the school's history. New friendships were formed that would never be broken. In all, North Davidson's student life made a tremendous step toward a better school environment.

Miss North Davidson

In the fall of 1969 the student body voted one of its highest honors to a lovely senior girl with blond hair and green eyes. Miss Irond Story reigned as our Miss North Davidson. This honor went to a girl who possesses not only beauty but also the character which makes people enjoy her company.

Irond represented North Davidson admirably in the Miss Davidson County Pageant. During the past year she was a majorette as well as a member of various clubs. Everyone who met Irond realized that she was someone very special. Her warm smile and pleasing personality allowed her to be a friend to anyone.

During four years at North Davidson Irond learned many things. From having been selected as Miss North Davidson she learned that to her fellow students she was a perfect queen.

Runners-Up

1st Runner-up: Trudy Boysworth. Trudy represented North well as 1st runner-up in the Veteran's Day Pageant.

2nd Runner-up: Donna Zimmerman. North was proud when Donna was crowned Miss Christmas Queen at the Lexington YMCA in November.

From a group of thirteen girls Trudy Boysworth was elected by the members of the football team to reign as North Davidson's 1969 Homecoming Queen.

Charming as always, Trudy seemed to radiate her personal happiness to all around her. The Homecoming Queen surely should possess the dignity and radiance of our Miss Trudy Boysworth.

Homecoming was always important at North, but in '69 a new sense of unity and pride evolved in our school. Students found a closeness that was to carry over throughout the year. As Homecoming closed, it opened a new era of friendship at North.

music of "Love Is Blue."

With the theme, "Love Is Blue" serving as a background, the annual Valentine Dance was even more successful than ones of previous years.

The "In-Steps", a six-piece combo from Mount Tabor, provided musical entertainment throughout the evening and were enjoyed by all who attended. Imaginative decorations converted the gymnasium into a dream-like setting and added to the romantic atmosphere.

Miss Cathy Barbry was chosen by the student body to reign as the 1970 Valentine Queen. After the presentation of the court, Cathy made her traditional walk and was presented a bouquet of red carnations and a crown by Johnny Everhart.

A unifying force of dedication completely encompassed the '69-70 version of the North Davidson cheerleaders. After spending a week at cheerleading camp, senior Sherry Mendenhall brought back new ideas for cheers as well as new techniques for carrying them out. School spirit was adequate during a lack luster football season, but under the able direction of the cheerleaders school spirit reached its pinnacle during the basketball season. The cheerleaders contributed so much of their time and energy to their position that each and everyone should be commended.

beauty to North's student life.

Majorettes were a valuable part of the North Davidson student life especially during the football season. The girls practiced long and hard to do their best in all their endeavors. Performing at football games as well as holiday parades, the majorettes added a touch of beauty to the band's appearances.

Drama groups worked on one-act plays

The drama class divided into working groups after a rest from the fall production, "Dark of the Moon." Directors were appointed by Mr. Bennett after which each group selected the play of its choice. These plays were presented to the drama department during regular class periods.

and in the fall presented . . .

In the fall, the Black Masque presented "Dark of the Moon," a powerful fantasy with a setting in the Smoky Mountains. As the tale unfolds, a witch boy tarries in a mountain community and falls in love with a beautiful girl named Barbara Allen. The meddling and superstitious townspeople, resentful of the happiness of the young couple, cause the play to end in violence and tragedy.

Lighting and special effects were essential to character portrayal. The enthusiastic cast appeared to enjoy their roles as they skillfully portrayed the characters. In short, the play was a successful part of North Davidson student life in 69-70.

"come as you please" day.

Changing times require changes in school life. The administration showed a willingness to change with the times by allowing students to dress as they pleased every other Friday. Being allowed to wear anything from sweatshirts to culottes, the students themselves adhered to the standard dress code more respectfully. Basically, "Come as you please" was a welcome addition to the occurrences at North Davidson during the turn of the decade.

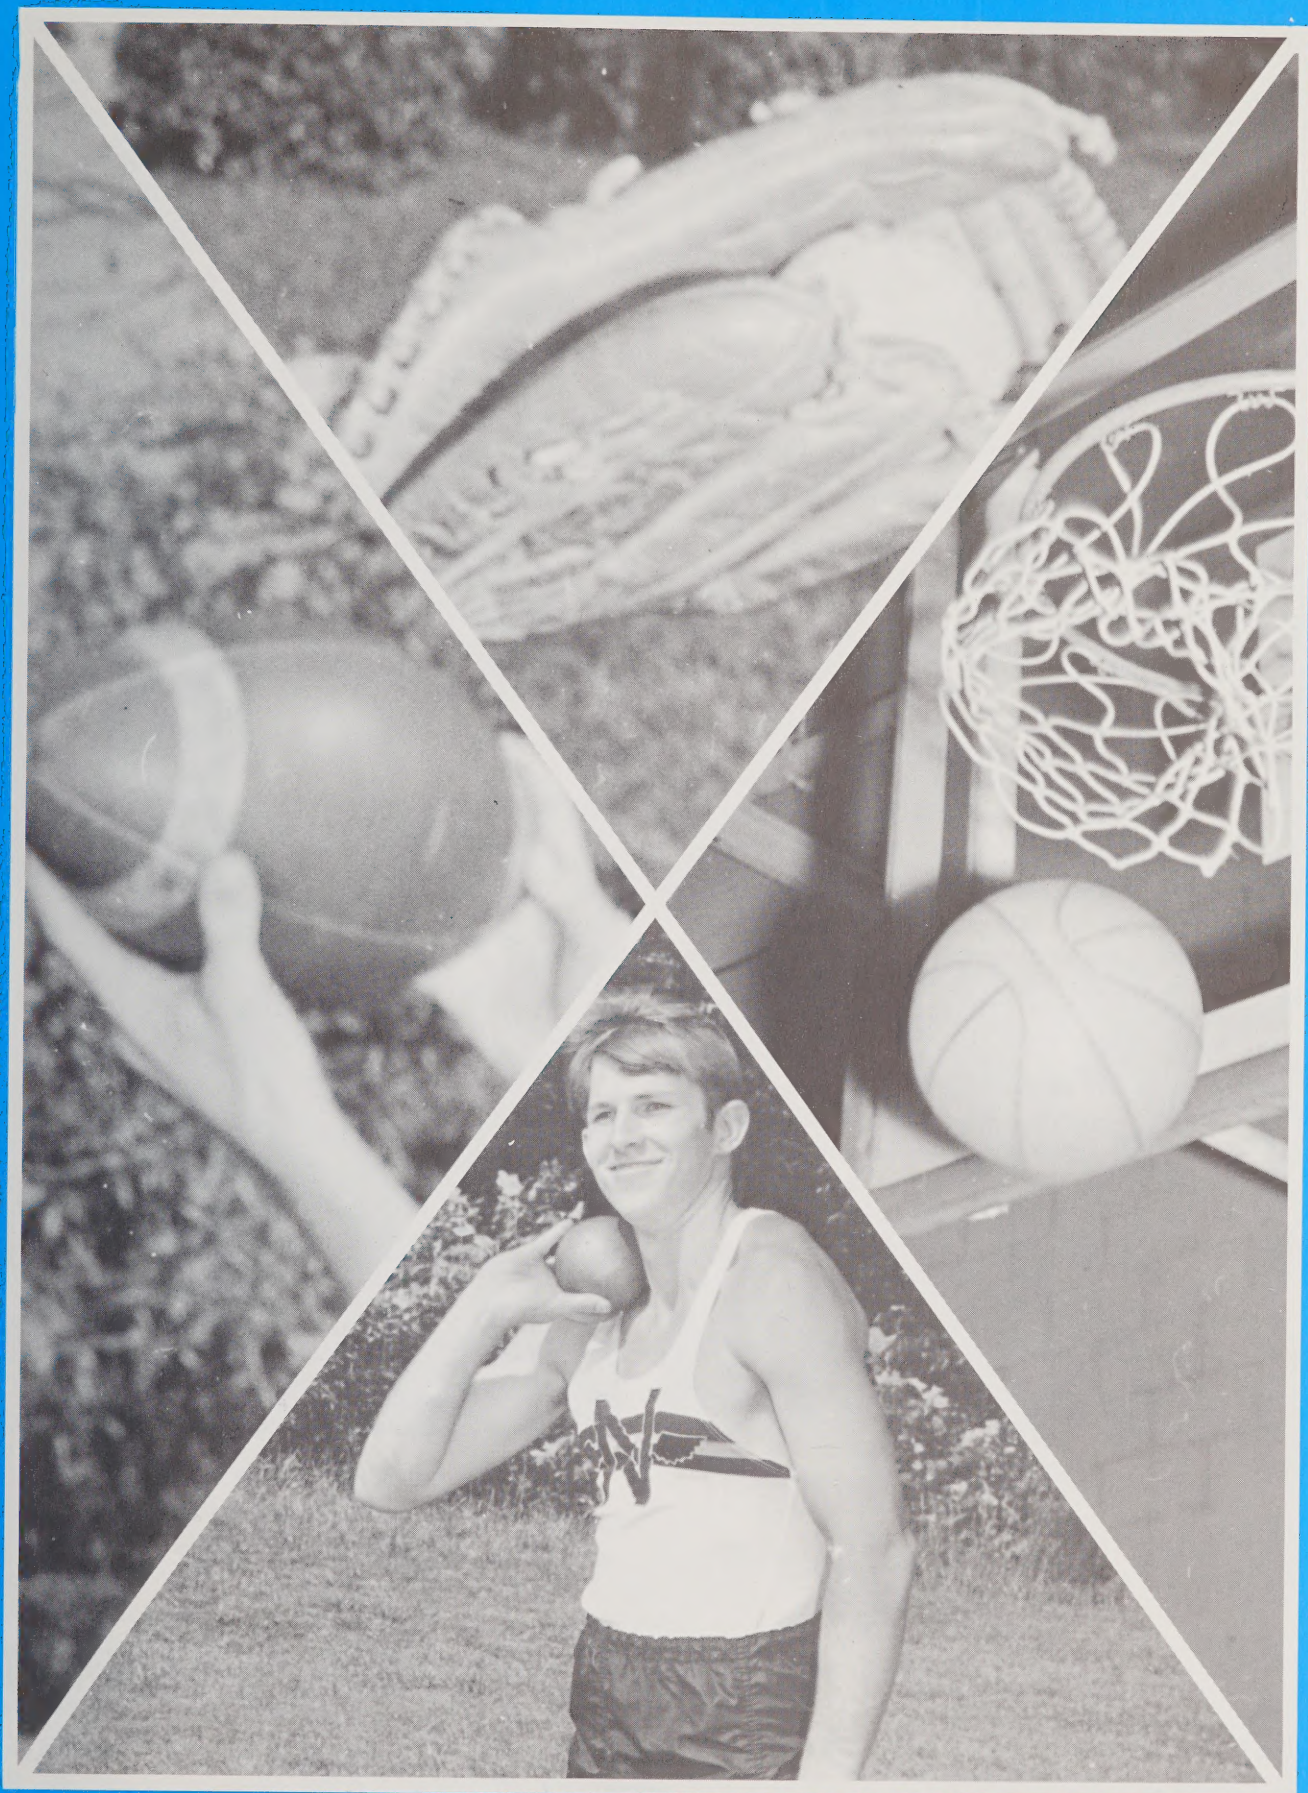

The new decade evolved amidst emphasis on personal expression.

In 1970 the students of North Davidson attempted to reveal to themselves and to others a new dimension of personal expression. While participating in various aspects of student life, the N.D. student had an opportunity to practice his personal expression. Through participation in dances, clubs, lectures and other worthwhile activities, each student benefited. In the past underclassmen had not felt free to express themselves, but during the past year this feeling was obliterated due to better student relations. Hopefully this feeling of togetherness and friendship was cultivated to continue prosperously and not be neglected.

ATHLETICS

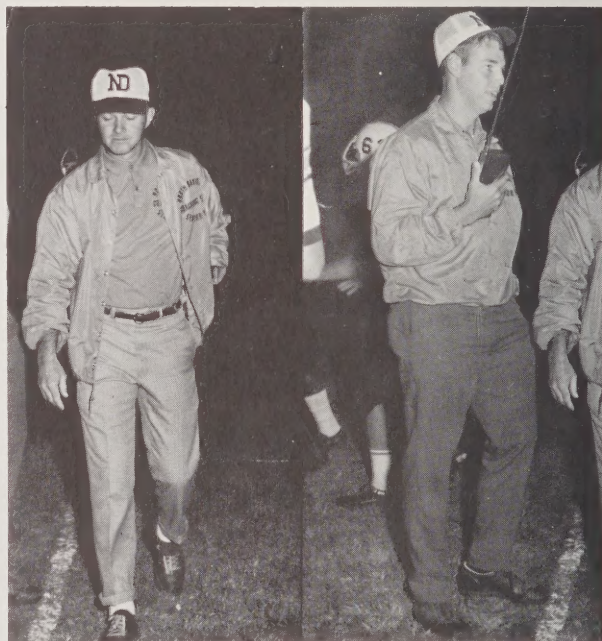

Assistant Coach Hinkle calls down another play.

Palmer studies the situation.

Varsity Football

This year North Davidson football was a disappointing area of athletics. Coach Don Palmer decided to depend exclusively on the two platoon system, sacrificing experience to allow sophomores more playing time. It was apparent to all that this year was one to lay the foundation for the return of a North Davidson football dynasty. Of course, to lay a foundation for future years sacrificing certain things is inevitable. One of these things was victories. Sophomores dominated the offensive unit which failed to supply offensive punch during the first part of the year. As this group became more cohesive, their improvement was apparent. Ending the season by winning three of the last four games, North Davidson was ready to re-emerge as a football power.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Once again North Davidson Junior Varsity football program was on a high level. The team compiled a 4-5 record, one game under a winning season. Junior Knights' played a very rugged schedule and were often out manned. Under Coach Rapp's coaching and spirited pep talks, the team never gave up.

The Junior Varsity team featured a strong running attack and some fine individual defensive standouts. These players will add much to the varsity team next year.

The season began with only glimmers of hope. Only two varsity players were returning. However, the Knights surprised everyone by revealing hustle and desire not shown in previous North Davidson teams. Desire was unable to overcome the opponents talent when North came up against North Rowan and Davie County in the same week; however, it reached its peak when the Knights put down undefeated Davie County 64-65. Such desire combined with available talent proved to be North Davidson's key.

to thrilling victories . . .

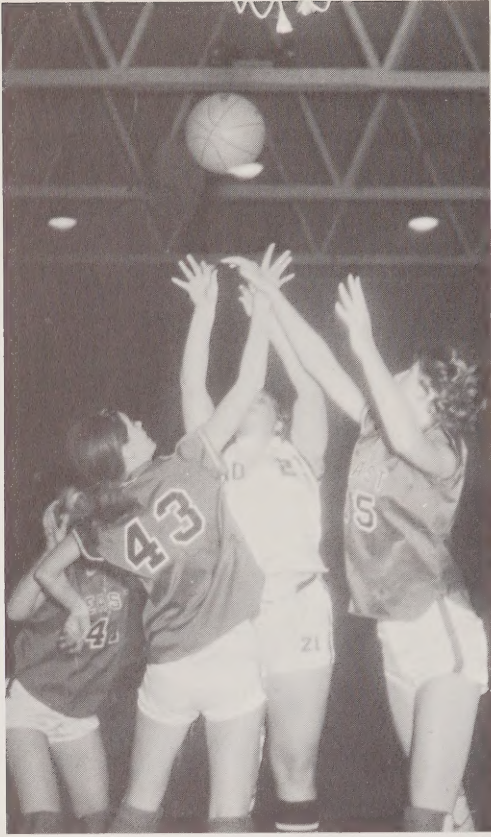

At North Davidson this year, the girl's basketball team was led by Debbie Leonard and Susan Swing. In a year when triumphs were difficult to obtain, the team was nevertheless exciting to watch. One of the most thrilling victories was the night when the unsuspecting Central team fell to a fifteen point defeat by the Lady Knights. Under a new coach, Steve Hinkle, who instituted a new style of play, the girls team moved faster and ran highly specialized plays. Even in games when North Davidson lost, the score was usually high. Take sportsmanship and exciting basketball and sprinkle it with victories and you have North Davidson girl's basketball 1969-1970.

INTRAMURALS: NEW

Along with the beginning of many new ideas came the institution of intramurals as a vital part of student life at North. With mixed emotions, many students who had never before participated in sports took part in the activities. Some students thought it a waste of their study time; others agreed that they enjoyed the opportunity for friendly rivalry. At the offset of the softball games enthusiasm seemed lacking. However, as the time for the finals came nearer, and the announcement was made that trophies would be given to the winners, students became more interested. Excitement reached a peak as Mr. Hinkle's girls defeated Revelle's Belles and Wright's Rompers romped over Bennett's Bears. In the coming years as the interest in intramurals grows, many new sports will be added to the schedule and North Davidson will make another step forward.

An enthusiastic teacher inspires her team.

Mrs. Wright and Mr. Hinkle accept trophies for winning teams.

Champions take time to pose for well-earned pictures.

SENIORS

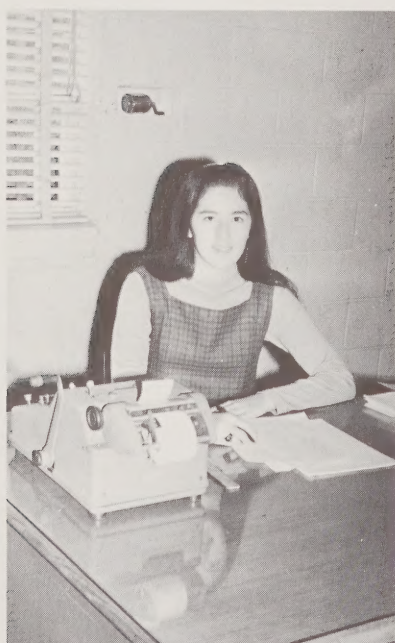

Seniors

During our four years at North we have matured in thought and in deed. North Davidson, too, has grown to a new level of sophistication. We watched North Davidson High School become North Davidson Senior High. We saw a change from a 2A to a 3A athletic conference a change in the curriculum with the offering of BOE, ICT, and Art; and the establishment of an intramural sports program. We became seniors and led the school through our last eventful year. But now, for the Class of '70, North Davidson and the experiences there are only memories.

From the editors:

It's the dawn of a new decade! And as we look back on the sixties we remember days of war and violence, of protests, of peace demonstrations, of psychedelic music, love-ins, anger, misunderstandings, moon landings, of illegal drugs, and of a time when everyone was searching for something. In keeping with the changes, we have changed the yearbook. This year we have tried to present a picture not only of North Davidson, its students and activities, but also of the outside world. The material is new, the arrangement of the sections is new, the dedication is different. Even the cover is a departure from the traditional.

In years to come we hope you will look back through your copy of the 1970 NORDAHI and recall the end of one decade and the dawn of a new one.
